

Attention Residents

HEALTH OFFICIALS
HAVE BEEN NOTIFIED OF AN OVERFRIENDLY
RACCOON IN GLEN ROCK

That has not been captured in the area of Ferndale Ave.

Rabies is a fatal viral disease if untreated.

Any mammal can carry rabies if infected.

A rabid animal may act aggressive, friendly, active or lazy.

Do not feed, handle or approach wild or unknown animals, including cats and kittens.

All animal bites or scratches should be reported to your local police department.

Call the Glen Rock Police Department at 201-652-3800

For further information about rabies, visit the Bergen County Department of Health Services website at www.bergenhealth.org or 201-634-2600

Bergen County Executive James J. Tedesco III and the Board of Chosen Freeholders

Bergen County Department of Health Services
One Bergen County Plaza 4th Floor
Hackensack, New Jersey 07601-7076

